DESTRUCTION WALKED WATER—SHIPPING LOST

Land Damage Was Greatest at Cleveland—5 Deaths—Food and Fuel Scarce

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—From fifty to one hundred people were drowned during the three-day storm on the Great Lakes, according to a recapitulation made today. The following list prepared here is believed to include all the disasters reported in the three days' storm:

An unidentified steamship believed to be the Canadian inter-lake liner Regina, sunk near Port Huron, Mich., in Lake Huron, with the loss of her entire crew numbering about forty, ten bodies being recovered. The steamer Waldo sunk off Manitou Island, Lake Superior, crew saved; an unidentified ship on the rocks at Isle Royal, Lake Superior, many people believed to have been drowned; an unidentified ship on the rocks in Copper Harbor, Lake Superior, large crew believed drowned; the steamer William Nottingham, adrift at Sand Island, Lake Superior, three drowned; the steamer Northern Queen, total loss at Kettle Point, Lake Huron, crew saved; the barge Plymouth, sunk at Menominee, Mich., seven people lost; lightship Eighty, sunk near Buffalo, crew of six drowned; the steamship E. A. S. Clark, lost and believed to have been sunk with her crew of forty.

Many small craft are known to have been wrecked, and other lives were probably lost. Among the craft wrecked here was the Santa Maria, a reproduction of Columbus' caravel, which is bound from Chicago to San Francisco. It was driven into a mud bank near Erie, Pa. On board is what is cherished as the original anchor which Columbus carried to America.

Reports from all points last night indicated that the storm had ended.

The fuel and food problem remains acute. Corpses lying in many homes cannot be buried because the undertakers cannot operate. Five deaths are reported as the result of the storm, which was the most severe in the history of northern Ohio. Thousands are destitute. Telephone service is crippled and the light wires are broken.

Feed and Fuel Reach City

Trains bringing food and fuel arrived here tonight. Three more bodies were found in snow drifts, bringing the total frozen to five.

The street car company is the heaviest financial loser, and may ask permission to abandon the three-cent fare.

KETTNER TALKS POST OFFICE JOBS

Congressman Confers With Local Democrats on Appointments

AHLBORN IS PICKED AS ANAHEIM WINNER

Either Tarver or Harris Seems Likely to be Landed by Him

Congressman William Kettner of San Diego was in Orange county yesterday. He was in Santa Ana from noon until 4 o'clock, and from here he went to Huntington Beach, thence into Los Angeles.

Kettner's visit was political—no question about that. It concerned postmasters and one or two other federal offices. Needless to say, Democrats interested in those matters made hay while the sun was shining. Kettner has two or three difficult situations to handle in this county. The two hardest are those at Anaheim and Huntington Beach. What Kettner has decided concerning those contests is not known, but in the Anaheim fight J. Frederick Ahlborn looks like a winner.

About a year ago Ahlborn was endorsed by the Democratic County Central Committee for the appointment to succeed J. W. Duckworth, incumbent. Duckworth is a good fighter, and he has pressed arguments and backing for a reappointment. Though a Republican, he supported Kettner in the campaign.

But Ahlborn, a Democrat, has the backing of the central committee, which is not for Duckworth, and the local Democrats say Kettner is a great hand to listen to county central committees. The local followers of President Wilson are not saying much, but it goes without saying that Ahlborn's stock is looking up.

The Anaheim office will be up for appointment in about two months. At Huntington Beach De Laup has the committee's endorsement by a vote of one. His opponent, Wetlin, has moved away, and Louis Paul Hart, editor of the beach newspaper, is a candidate. Just what will happen there is hard to say.

They Seem Solid

At least two candidates for postal favors seem to be well satisfied with Kettner's visit. They are C. D. Overshiner of Santa Ana, secretary of the central committee, and James Fullerton of Orange. Overshiner has no opposition. Fullerton has the unanimous endorsement of the central committee. His position differs from Overshiner's in that he has a rival, Moore. Fullerton was called over to Santa Ana for a conference with Kettner yesterday afternoon.

May Land One

Kettner has interested himself in the candidacies of two other Orange county Democrats. One of them is Attorney R. E. Tarver, who has been urged upon by the party leaders to be a candidate for appointment as deputy United States district attorney under Schooner. The other is J. Wiley Harris, who is a candidate for appointment as register of the United States land office.

Local Democrats are counting on the congressman to land at least one of these appointments for an Orange county man.

A goodly share of Kettner's time here was put in at the office of Attorney H. C. Hend, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee.

Kettner has a number of postoffice fights in his district that must be settled. Perhaps the bitterest is that at San Bernardino.

In his conversation here Kettner declared himself to be a strong believer in the Currency bill. He thinks it will work a favorable change in the money market. He expressed himself as a great admirer of Underwood, declaring him to be one of the strongest Democrats in the country and a man with a great future.

WANTED—EGG CONTAINER

Federal Official Seeks Container Strong Enough to Carry Eggs by Parcel Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Dr. A. D. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry, is in search of an egg container that will permit shipment of eggs from the farm to the consumer. The light cases are too easily crushed."

ANGLO-JAPAN PACT IN FORCE

'BLIND PIGS' HINDER WORK OF MISSION IN CITY SAYS GONZALES

Spanish Worker Would Have Good People Suppress Illegal Joints That Entice Spanish Citizens

The W.C.T.U. had a most interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the First Congregational church, with a large number of ladies present. The subject for discussion was "Our Foreign Population," the program being in charge of Mrs. A. H. Nickell. Mrs. J. H. Scott led the devotional service, and a double quartet, composed of Mrs. Neff, Mrs. Ludwig, Mrs. Geo. Post, Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Mrs. C. W. Burns, Mrs. Crissman, Mrs. Theal and Mrs. Thomas, sang two splendid selections.

Rev. Mr. Gonzales, who has charge of the Spanish mission of the city, was presented and told of his work, and of the difficulties in his way. He asserted that the blind pigs in Santa Ana keep his people supplied with liquor, and in his opinion the officers do not enforce the laws. He stated that he came from New Mexico and that a "dry" town there was not like a dry town here. There the officers see that the laws are obeyed, and if one law is broken a penalty is so heavily imposed that the people are not continually breaking them. Mr. Gonzales said further that the moving pictures and pool rooms are also a menace to his people on the Sabbath, and he thought the good people of Santa Ana should see that those places are closed on that day. He says the Mexicans will not attend church, but will go to these places and spend their money so badly needed for other purposes. He said that some of the moving pictures had a bad effect on his people in the way of being suggestive of robberies, and similar evils. The speaker said he had thought of building a social hall at the church, but lack of money prevents his doing that at present. There is a Sunday school of 38 members, and the work needs the help of every church in the city.

Captain Lewis of the Salvation Army was present and made a good talk. He told of the Salvation Army work in this city, saying it is not a large one, but that much good is being done. Two meetings are held each Sunday in the county jail and a Sunday school and young people's meeting of 35 members are maintained.

Rev. T. Bom, pastor of the Japanese mission of this city, was to have been present, but being unable to do so sent a written statement of the work for Japanese being done here with the aid of the First Congregational church.

Questions were answered by the speakers present, and much discussion followed as to how the laws could be better enforced and the show places and pool rooms closed on the Sabbath.

Delegates were appointed to attend the Prohibition convention to be held in Los Angeles Nov. 19 and 20. Mrs. F. H. McElroy and Mrs. Dorace McPhee being appointed from the Santa Ana union, and Mrs. Belle Rogers from the county W.C.T.U.

The president reported that this union had taken one share of stock in the new Anaheim Herald, a daily paper that will be published by the people of that place.

The next meeting of the local union will be held at the home of Mrs. C. E. French, when a parliamentary drill will be given by Mrs. Rogers and current events will be reviewed.

Several hundred persons are held in secret conference in effort to agree—Believed They Will Get Together

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The senate Democrats went into secret conference today over the proposed currency legislation. Before the meeting Senator Owen, one of the authors of the Owen-Glass bill, said he believed the conference would result in a Democratic agreement upon definite, broad principles. The administration Democrats appeared inclined to support the general plan of the Owen-Glass measure, but insisted that some changes must be made. They want the number of regional banks reduced from twelve to eight. They also believe the stock of reserve banks should not be thrown open to public subscription but should be taken up by members of the banks.

A delicate situation was called up by the threats of some of the members to bolt if any attempt was made to bind the party by caucus pledges on any particular bill. President Wilson conferred with party leaders for some time before the conference was held.

The senate Democrats discussed currency legislation for an hour at the secret meeting, then adjourned without action against the Glass-Owen bill. It was decided to permit the senate banking committee more time to agree. If no agreement is reached within a few days, the senate Democrats will confer again next week.

SEEKING FOR MEXICAN PEACE

Wilson Proposes Compromise Between Gen. Carranza and Huerta

ENVOY HALE CONFERS ON PLAN WITH CARRANZA

Rebels Driven Back at Tuxpam by Federal Guns But Win Victories Elsewhere

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The significance of Envoy Hale's conference with General Carranza at Nogales, Arizona, was reported this afternoon as a compromise which President Wilson seeks to effect with Huerta and Carranza. He wants both to agree to the appointment of a third man to the presidency to serve until an election can be called and the people can have an opportunity to select a president.

Administration officials doubt the success of the plan. They argue that Carranza is in the ascendancy and believes he can rout Huerta if the United States embargo on arms is removed. They think Huerta will refuse to relinquish his power for even a short time.

Anty Drudge—"You silly children. Harry, you go down to the grocer's and get some Fels-Naptha Soap. Nellie, you throw away that old-fashioned laundry soap and the wash-boiler and wash the Fels-Naptha way. Then you won't have steam, odor or hard work."

The matter of a lower gas rate for Anaheim was taken up and discussed. It has been reported that Fullerton is furnished with gas at the rate of 80 cents. A committee consisting of A. A. Mills, W. P. Quanton and Frederick Ahlborn, was appointed to look into this matter, and if Fullerton has this rate, Anaheim will demand the same.

The Olive Bridge committee is to investigate the work that is being done in the river bed near Olive.

The board also discussed the plan of reviving Arbor Day observance. Until the past two years this day has been observed here and many trees now growing around the school yards and along some of the principal streets of this city have been planted on previous Arbor Days. It is the plan of the organization to revive this excellent movement that has been dormant for two years. The scarcity of trees planted since the movement ceased has been quite noticeable.

It was decided to observe Arbor Day next year, February 22, and C. F. Grim, the father of tree-planting here, was appointed as chairman of the committee having the matter in hand.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what all your little one is full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advertisement.

LIGHT SHOWERS AT ORANGE LAST NIGHT

(By Staff Correspondent)

A banquet was served last evening at the First M. E. church to the officers and teachers of the M. E. Sunday school. The chief feature of the banquet which was served at 6:30 p. m., was reports given by Mrs. F. V. Pruitt and Mrs. D. R. Collins, who were delegates from the Orange M. E. church to the recent Sunday school convention at San Diego. The reports were very interesting and were heard by about sixty guests.

O. P. Litton, formerly of Orange, and later of Santa Ana, was here today from Long Beach on matters of business.

The Union Mercantile Co. has purchased two International trucks from M. Eltiste & Co. The two trucks will be used in delivery service.

The American Women's Republic met yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. B. Gifford, 313 East Calvary. Owing to the threatening weather a rather small attendance reported. Plans were formed for an entertainment to be given at Campbell's hall Nov. 21.

LESSONS FROM DISASTERS AT SEA

Titanic and Volturno Wrecks to be Retold at Safety Conference

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Lessons from the Titanic and Volturno disasters were drawn today in the opening sessions of the International Conference on Safety at Sea. The United States was represented at the gathering by Representative Joshua W. Alexander of Missouri, chairman of the House committee of Merchant Marine and Fisheries, chairman of the delegation; Eugene T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation, secretary; and Captain George D. Cooper, United States navy, treasurer. As had been expected, one of the first matters which came up for consideration today was the recommendation that wireless apparatus be required on all ships in foreign trade that carry fifty or more persons, including passengers and crew. In this connection it was deemed advisable according to a report read at today's session, that the wireless on all ships should be able to transmit messages at least 100 nautical miles, and that auxiliary power supply for working the vessels' main electrical power plant, to send messages at least 100 miles for four hours or more.

On the question of requiring at least two operators, it was expected that some differences of opinion would arise. Such a recommendation, it was thought, would pass in regard to ships maintaining a constant service and carrying 100 or more passengers. It was thought that one first or second grade wireless operator and one cargo operator, or watchman, would be recommended for cargo boats. All these recommendations were heartily supported by the delegation from the United States. It was expected that some sort of resolution praising Captain Smith of the burned Volturno, would be unanimously agreed upon, to commend him for his gallantry when his ship burned at sea some weeks ago.

The story of the Volturno was expected to be vividly retold in support of recommendations for better fire fighting facilities on all boats. The complete United States delegation appointed by President Wilson is made up of the following:

Senators Fletcher of Florida and Burton of Ohio, Representative Alexander of Missouri, Commissioner of Navigation Chamberlain, Captain E. P. Berthoff of the revenue cutter service, Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, Captain George S. Cooper and Captain W. H. G. Bullard, U. S. N.; Homer L. Ferguson, North Carolina; Herbert G. Smith, New York; Andrew Furuseth, California; and George Uhler, supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service.

D. D. D. Opens New Era in Cure of Skin Disease

Professor Budlong's case of eczema was known to almost every hospital and physician of reputation throughout the state of Connecticut. His letter is another interesting demonstration of what is being accomplished by the famous specific D. D. D. Prescription. "It may be of interest to you to know that your life-saving preparation, D. D. D. Prescription has been of incalculable value to me. I was covered with eczema from head to foot when I began using your remedies. I could get no relief, although I tried a thousand medicines, but two bottles of the Prescription; a cure was effected in a very short time, in less than one month."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, South Lyme, Conn.

Ask any druggist today for D. D. D. Prescription. He'll tell you it cures the itch instantly—and soon there are signs of cure.
We have handled the remedy for years and regard it as the specific for skin troubles of all kinds. Come in or ask us about D. D. D. Prescription, also about D. D. D. soap especially for tender skins.
We offer the first full size bottle on the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once, it costs you not a cent.

IS NOT SATISFIED WITH THE PILLARS

Last night the school board made its dissatisfaction known concerning the finish of the pillars of the manual arts building and the administration building. It is believed that a new finish will be put on the pillars. The secretary was authorized to sign a contract with the city for a supply of irrigation water for the agricultural department.

The boiler house, built by David Irvine, was accepted.

SERIOUS CATARRH YIELDS TO HYOMEL

Do not let this serious disease extend along the delicate mucous membrane, gradually going from the nose to the throat, thence into the bronchial tubes and downward until the lungs are reached.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that is like Hyomel or just as good. None can take its place, none give such quick, effective and sure relief and at so little cost—furthermore your money if you are not benefited, Hyomel, as sold by all druggists, reaches the most remote cells of the air passages, kills the catarrhal germs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane.

Begin its use now—today, and see how quickly the droppings into the throat, the discharges from the nose, sniffing and all other symptoms of catarrh are overcome; and remember—no stomach drugging—you breathe it. The complete outfit containing inhaler and bottle of liquid costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid, if later needed, 50 cents.—Advertisement.

TO USE CANCELLED STAMPS

Postal Clerks to Affix Canceled Stamps to Packages Sent By Parcel Post

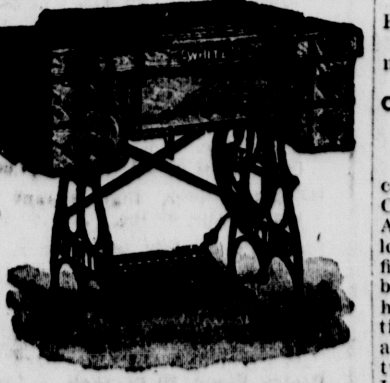

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—In order to facilitate the handling of parcel post packages, Postmaster General Burleson has issued an order that clerks receiving the money for stamps for such parcels may indicate the amount of postage required, and this will be affixed by the postal clerks in the canceled stamp. This will avoid the necessity of hand cancellation, now in use only on parcels which, because of their shape, cannot be handled by machinery. Hand cancellation means the loss of much time.

LAST NIGHT'S RAIN WAS TENTH OF INCH

A refreshing shower fell last night. While the fall was only one-tenth of an inch, there was enough rain to lay the dust and refresh vegetation. There was not enough rain to do damage to any of the few crops that would be damaged by rain at this time. The beet growers who have not harvested their crops do not wait rain. Nearly everybody else is willing that it should rain.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS FROCK COAT

The November number of the Sartorial Art Journal expresses an undertone of disappointment that President Wilson has discarded the frock coat, save for the most conventional occasions. In so doing, however, he follows a very general custom among simple-minded people.

Who can estimate the millions of frock coats of ancient vintage, lying dusty and unworn in remote closets? A great many of them belong to elderly men who were married in their thirty, forty or fifty years ago. On state occasions they still come out, though they bear but slight relation to today's fashion plate. Many of them are as fresh as when they were tailored, so few have been the state occasions when they seemed desirable.

In England and other foreign countries, the frock coat is far more popular. Salesmen in stores feel a frock coat necessary for their dignity. It adds impressiveness to their personality and elevates their conception of their position. Their salary may be meager, their home humble, their hours of labor long. But if they can still support a frock coat, even if threadbare and shiny, they feel that they still retain social position.

Formerly many political candidates felt it necessary to show respect for audiences by appearing in a frock coat at rallies. Lawyers almost invariably wore them in addressing the court. The deacon felt he was showing slight regard for the importance of his church function if he passed the contribution box while wearing anything less serious.

The frock coat does not accord with the brisk, bustling American temperament. The men who follow society codes may need it to meet fine sartorial distinctions. The business man would feel heavy and burdened with its portentous black tails flapping around.

THE HARVEST HOME

One by one traditional customs of the race are dying out. One of those of which only a trace remains is the old "Harvest home."

In many parts of Europe, when the fields were harvested, it was once customary to erect a figure in size from a doll upward, which personified the frolic spirit of the occasion. The laborers danced merrily about the image. An evening's revelry celebrated the end of a period of labor.

It was an outgrowth of the good cheer and high spirits that follows the completion of a big task. The American Thanksgiving day is different, expressing originally the feeling of devotion and spiritual people toward the unseen author of all good.

Sunday school and church harvest concerts and festivals might be considered slightly related to the old

Harvest home. These observances are appropriate in a farming community, where people draw their living from the soil. Where they are held in a city church they seem less fitting. When people earn their living as merchants, business men, and mechanics, the decorating of churches with pumpkins and cornucopias seems slightly far fetched. Still, as these gifts are usually bestowed on hospitals or other charity, a too keen sense of humor is not called for in this connection.

Public celebrations reflect the age. The American people are making their own celebrations. The football game supplants Harvest home and the old time Thanksgiving, as baseball has set aside the patriotism of the summer holidays. Quaint customs with whimsical local flavor are replaced by athletic sports which appeal to the modern demand for power and competition. There are some real losses here.

SUPERVISORS DID RIGHT

The Register heartily commends the action of the supervisors in providing for an Orange county exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. They were confronted by a condition, not a theory, and the only business-like common-sense course for them to pursue was to get in line with the other progressive counties of Southern California. Regardless of the questions of justice, consistency, fairness, etc., of the position taken by the Exposition management requiring payment from the counties for space, the fact remains that the space will be worth all it costs, both in taxes and direct payment. We could not afford not to exhibit.

DR. J. R. MEDLOCK

AN APPRECIATION

"Death takes us by surprise, And stays our hurrying feet; The great design unfinished lies, Our lives are incomplete."

Dr. J. R. Medlock, the kind and loving husband, father, friend and successful physician, has answered his last call. No more will he pass "Through scenes of sorrow by beds of death,

Where foul contagion's poisonous breath Filled the air with a deadly taint, Listening to heart-throbs weak and faint,

With cheer for the living, tears for the dead, Caring for others himself instead, Simple his life and plain to tell— He knew his duty and did it well."

Dr. Medlock was no ordinary man or physician. He was a man of deeds more than words. He was a man of action, alert, resourceful, always ready; a man of judicial mind, he saw both sides of all questions.

"Hundreds of mothers in Orange county could testify to his skill as an obstetrician. It was in the maternity chamber at the midnight hour that Dr. Medlock was the dominant figure, 'a shadow of a great rock in a weary land.' He always met promptly and successfully every emergency, and did it so quietly and without ostentation that many failed to discover the artist that he was. A 'doctor of the old school,' he rode a horse and carried saddle bags to the remote homes in an Arkansas wilderness. 'Twas there he became self-reliant and resourceful before coming to California. No night was too dark or storm too severe for him to answer the call of suffering.

Dr. Medlock was fortunate to be well born. He had in his makeup the Scotch ancestry of oak. He inherited from his forbears a contempt for a hypocrite or the deceitful quack; he was the son of a hero; he always signed his letters, 'Sincerely yours.' He himself was sincere, genuine, honest, unaffected, candid, cordial and true.

But he has gone, leaving us his memory to cherish. "It seemeth such a little way to me, Across to that strange country, the beyond, And yet not strange, for it has grown to be The home of those of whom I am so fond. It makes it seem familiar and most dear, As journeying friends bring distant regions near. So close it lies that when my sight is clear I think I almost see the gleaming Strand; I know I feel those who have gone from here Come close enough sometimes to touch my hand. I often think but for our veiled eyes We should find heaven right around about us here; I cannot make it seem a day of dread, When from this dear earth I shall journey out To that still dearer country of the dead, And join the lost ones for long dreamed about. I love this world, yet I shall love to go, To meet the friends who wait for me, I know."

I never stand above a bier and see The seal of death set on some well-beloved face. But that I think, one more to welcome me, When I shall cross the intervening space Between this land and that one over there; One more to make the strange beyond seem fair, And so for me there is no sting in death; And so the grave has lost its victory; It is but crossing with a bated breath, And with sad face a little strip of sea, To find the loved ones waiting on the shore, More beautiful, more precious than before."

A FRIEND.

THE CITRUS FRUIT INDUSTRY

Department of Service to Citrus Fruit Growers, Conducted Especially for the Register.

CITRUS BY-PRODUCTS Methods of Manufacture Abroad

The processes used in the manufacture of citrus by-products abroad are of great value and interest as serving to show where it is possible to produce these products in this country in competition with the imported article, by the use of more scientific methods and improved labor-saving devices.

The fact that long custom has so firmly established these methods in numerous instances is an important factor, rendering the use of modern machinery and any change in the processes in vogue in such cases frequently a matter of great difficulty, and in some cases a practical impossibility.

It will be noticed in the case of the more important lemon by-products in Italy that labor in the main item in the cost of manufacturing, and in the expense of machinery, of counterbalancing the difference in the cost of labor here and abroad would seem to be the solution of the problem of building up a successful by-product industry in this country.

Citrate of Lime
Citrate of lime, or calcium citrate, is an intermediate product in the manufacture of citric acid, which occurs in a free state in lemon juice, together with sugar and mucilaginous bodies. In order to separate it from the juice it is combined with lime, the juice remaining after the formation of the insoluble citrate of lime, being separated by filtration.

The peel of the lemon is usually separated from the pulp by hand, the operators, generally women and children, earning from 20 cents to 40 cents a day in the case of the former, and from five cents to 15 cents in the case of the latter, according to the amount of peel produced. The details of this work vary with the district and use to which the peel is to be put.

The pulp is conveyed to a crusher, usually run by hand, and consisting of a hopper leading into wooden rollers and a small chisel for carrying off the crushed pulp. The whole being placed over or very near the juice tank to catch the dripping. The crushed pulp is then shoveled into large straw filtering mats and stacked under large hand presses where the juice is completely pressed out, filtering through the mats into the juice tank. From this tank the juice is pumped, usually by hand, into a large tank heated by direct fire, steam coils or occasionally by leading steam directly into the juice, and its acidity neutralized by means of lime water, and after heating for several hours run off into the filtering tank while still hot. In this tank the juice is filtered out through a special filter cloth, the citrate of lime remaining as a fine powder. This powder is then shoveled into small bags and any excess of juice or liquor remaining expelled under small hand presses. The citrate of lime is then removed to iron pans which are placed in the drying oven—a small room, ventilated at the top, around which are built tiers of iron racks for holding the pans, and heated by means of a huge charcoal burner placed in the center of the room, the drying process taking from six to forty-eight hours.

While the quantity of citrate of lime produced from a given quantity of fruit varies with the quality, season of year and length of time between picking and final manufacture, the average production is estimated at one pipe—675 pounds—to each 100,000 lemons, approximately one carload of California lemons.

The grower in Sicily gets about $100 per 100,000 for the grade of fruit so used, the resulting citrate of lime being worth from $75 to $95, that is, 10 1/2 cents to 14 cents per pound. The average cost of manufacturing this product in Italy is estimated at from $10 to $15 per pipe of 675 pounds, the peelings from the same lemons, 100,000, producing an average of 100 pounds of lemon oil worth from $80 to $100.

The average value of imports of these products into this country in 1912 are given as 134-16 cents per pound for the citrate of lime and $123 per pound for the lemon oil. Under the provisions of an act passed in Rome on June 1, 1908, the Italian government undertook to regulate the sale and to make advance upon citrus products, following a bid of big production and exceptionally low prices.

In conclusion it may be said that such equipment as is in use in the manufacture of citrate of lime in Italy is as a rule very crude, the operation undertaken being very simple character.

Administration is Run Along Business Lines

It is doubtful if there is a big corporation in California that conducts its affairs along more businesslike lines than does the state under the new order of things that came in with the Johnson administration.

A system of pre-estimates, inaugurated by the Board of Control, gives that body direct supervision over all proposed expenditures by institutions, departments and offices, and enables it to call a halt where it is planned to exceed the available fund or where it is planned to expend money for a purpose not contemplated in the appropriation granted by the legislature. This is check No. 1, and a very important check it is, too.

But if no objection is found to a pre-estimate of expenditures and the proposed indebtedness is incurred, there are other systems of checks to see to it, first, that the goods as ordered or work as contracted for come up to standard; second, that the profits charged do not exceed the figures given in the pre-estimate; third, that all extensions and totals are correct; and, fourth, that the claims against the state are drawn against the proper funds. All claims are audited by the Board of Control and the state controller and if found correct the latter draws the warrants for their payment.

The Board of Control and the controller's office, as a matter of fact, work together and constitute a double checking system by which it is practically impossible for the state to be deprived of what properly belongs to it. While their duties to some extent are identical, yet they differ materially in other respects. The Board of Control inaugurates proceedings by means of the pre-estimate system, while the controller winds them up by making the payments, the responsibility falling upon him in the final analysis to see that no illegal claim is paid and that no warrant is drawn except upon the proper fund.

Never in the history of the state has its business been conducted so efficiently. Not only has graft been stopped, but waste as well. The people are now getting a dollar's worth for every dollar spent. The saving to the taxpayer has been tremendous. Despite the natural increase in the cost of running the state, due to its wonderful development, and regarding many of its financial expenses, the

HARRIS HAS BEEN CRAZY FROM CHILDHOOD SAYS MOTHER

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—Alone in defense of her son, his old black mammy today went on the witness stand and swore that Burr Harris, the negro who killed Mrs. Rebecca Gay, the Christian Science practitioner, has been crazy since childhood.

Harris's mother, Mrs. Clara Harris, was the first defense witness. She cited numerous alleged insane actions by the prisoner, Harris himself displayed little interest. The courtroom was crowded, the majority of the spectators being women.

Orange Commercial Club Wants Municipal Structure Erected

BONDS FOR BRIDGE ARE PROPOSED ALSO

County and City Will Probably Act Together Building Bridge

ORANGE, Nov. 12.—Orange is going to have a $25,000 city hall. In short, that was the declaration of the Orange Commercial Club at an important meeting of that club last night.

The club decided to ask the City Trustees to call a bond election to get the necessary coin, and a committee was appointed to secure options on sites. It is proposed to ask the city board to submit to the people at least four sites. The club also voted to ask the city board to submit a bonding proposal to raise money to build the city's half of the proposed concrete bridge on East Chapman street. The county is ready to build its half. It is probable that the county and city will act together and let a joint contract.

DR. BARTLETT IS SATISFIED WITH COMMISSION'S FINDINGS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—The Bethlehem board matter, which has been the subject of considerable controversy before the municipal charities commission, came up only incidentally at the meeting of that body yesterday. Major Copp, a member of the commission, stated that attorneys for Dr. Dana Bartlett had informed him that they were satisfied with the findings of the commission to the effect that there had been no misappropriation of funds and that as the Bethlehem institutions were no longer connected with charity work the question of indorsement need not be considered.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

CHARMING AFTERNOON

Music and Readings Entertained the Tustin Twelve at her Pretty Stearns Home

Mrs. J. C. Stearns, always a successful hostess, charmingly entertained the jolly Tustin Twelve at her home Tuesday afternoon. While the ladies busied themselves with fancy needlework, Miss Clara Wells, a niece of the hostess, favored them with two of three beautiful piano selections. Mrs. Chas. Johnson, always ready and willing to do her part, then sang and was heartily encored. The music was followed by a reading splendidly given by Mrs. Abbott, a niece of the hostess. A song sweetly sung by Mrs. Stearns, completed a program that was greatly enjoyed.

The rooms were prettily decorated with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums, and with shades drawn and lights on the home was very cozy and attractive. A delectable two-course collation consisting of nut sandwiches, scalloped oysters and coffee, fruit salad with whipped cream, and cakes, was served in the dining room. Those seated at the tables were the hostess, and her guests, Mrs. George Wells of Santa Ana with her two daughters, Miss Wells and Mrs. Abbott, and members of the club as follows: Mesdames Artz, Fuller, Hoefler, House, Johnson, Morehead, Nimmo, Poole, Pollard, Smith.

The afternoon was far spent when the ladies finally started for their several homes, each vowing Mrs. Stearns a most admirable hostess.

All members and friends are invited to be present. Mrs. W. B. Kirven will be the program leader.

The Y.M.E.C. Auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist church will meet with Mrs. George Heil, 210 South Broadway, on next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

SOCIAL SEASON LIVENING; MANY EVENTS SCHEDULED

Owing to the lateness of the opening of school, the prolonged warm season that kept many at the beaches, and other reasons, the social season has been somewhat slow in getting into full swing. It is beginning to look up, however, and during the past week there have been several affairs of interest, and cards are out for a number of coming events.

Among the latter may be mentioned Mrs. C. S. Kendall's luncheon tomorrow; parties to be given by Mrs. F. C. Rowland next Thursday afternoon and Friday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. F. Crose; a luncheon on Friday at which Mrs. A. J. Crookshank will be hostess; an evening party at Taylor's on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at which the hostesses will be Mesdames Alice Harris, Arthur Lyon and J. P. Hatzfeld; a whist party to be given on Friday, November 21, by Mesdames R. E. Williams and E. R. Majors; a whist party with which Mrs. Max Reinhold will entertain on Tuesday, Nov. 25; a musicale to be given by Mrs. E. M. Neely and Mrs. S. M. Davis at the home of Mrs. Davis, Wednesday, November 26.

Mrs. Walter Vandermaast and Mrs. Walter Prince are entertaining this afternoon, and Mrs. Ed Shaw and Mrs. Lois Lenz are hostesses at an affair in honor of Mrs. Harry McPhee.

For His Birthday

Will Diers was the honoree of a pleasant affair last evening, his mother, Mrs. Henry Diers, being the hostess at a dinner given in honor of his birthday. The affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Diers, and was served at 6:30 o'clock in six courses. A few of his friends had been invited and the affair passed off delightfully. Golden-hued chrysanthemums were used in house and table decorations, a bouquet of the gorgeous flowers being massed in a cut glass vase for the centerpiece of the prettily appointed table.

At McKinley School

There will be a meeting of the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, in the kindergarten building on West Third street.

An interesting program has been prepared and there will be a round table discussion in character building. There will also be an address by Mrs. Whitney, also the usual question box. Refreshments will be served. All are invited.

DINNER PARTY

Roses and Chrysanthemums Used for Pretty Affair Given by Mr. and Mrs. Carden

The second of the two pretty dinner parties to be given by Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carden within a week took place last night at their French street home. Creamy chrysanthemums were used in the reception hall and library, while exquisite pink roses adorned the parlors.

Pink carnations and maiden hair ferns made lovely decorations for the handsomely appointed dining table with pink shaded candelabra adding to the rosy color scheme. The pink color scheme was carried throughout the six-course dinner wherever possible, producing a most charming result.

The evening following the dinner was spent with cards, whist being played. Prizes were awarded as follows: First prize to Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Kendall and the consolation trophy going to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roper.

The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carden were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reeves.

P-T Association Meeting
The Parent-Teacher Association of Roosevelt school held one of the most interesting sessions on Tuesday afternoon. The question box conducted by Mrs. Whitney of the Intermediate school, brought out many views of parent and teacher, especially on the subject of exhibits or lectures entirely foreign to school work in the school hours or halls. Upon taking a vote on the question the mothers voted against any such intrusion.

Mrs. Clark of the Mexican school talked in her pleasant manner about her charges and work, and answered any question regarding the school. Mrs. Fred Winslow gave a splendid synopsis of the first chapter of Civics and Health.

The next meeting will be a fathers' meeting, held in the evening, Dec. 9.

Seeing the Town
Edgar S. Bronson, secretary-treasurer of the Oklahoma Press Association, and Norris A. Nichols, both newspaper men of Thomas, Oklahoma, visited Santa Ana today. It is probable that the Oklahoma Press Association will make a trip to this state in 1915.

C. E. Social
A very pleasant and enthusiastic business and social meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Harris. After the business session was over the evening was spent in a social way, light refreshments being served before the company dispersed.

Arrangements were completed for supper to be given in the early part of December, before the C. E. year

AMUSEMENTS

Good Pictures at Clune's Theater.
The program at Clune's Theater, which was given Monday and Tuesday evenings and will again be given this evening, is a very entertaining one. The showing of moving pictures is especially good.

The feature picture is one of five reels and is entitled "Chelsea 7750." Henry E. Dixey is the principal character. He takes the part of Detective Kirby in one of the most thrilling of detective pictures ever thrown on the screen. The story is depicted in New York and deals with the running down of a daring band of counterfeiters.

The picture is full of exciting episodes and keeps the audience tense all through the five reels. It is really a masterpiece of moving picture acting and is alone well worth the price of admission.

Another well acted and rather dramatic picture is the "Wheel of Destruction." This is shown on the two reels the part showing the international auto race being so spectacular.

In addition to these pictures there are shown on the screen stereoscopic views of the Los Angeles aqueduct, recently completed. These give an excellent idea of the immensity of the undertaking.

In the vaudeville numbers the Morales Trio are perhaps the stars of the evening, their acrobatic stunts, and especially the efforts of the small daughter of the family, calling forth much approbation from the audience.

Gilbert Mack sang some real Italian and Jewish songs, and judging from the measure of applause accorded him, his efforts along his particular line were appreciated.

Altogether it is really a good show, and the management can be congratulated upon their judgment in getting the best in the moving picture and vaudeville world for the price of admission charged.

BUYING FIRE-POTS AND STORING OIL TO FIGHT FROSTS

E. R. Maury was in Los Angeles a day or two ago buying his frost protection outfit, in the way of fire-pots, storage tank and oil wagon. Mr. Maury says growers are alive to the idea of frost protection. Hundreds of thousands of fire-pots and large quantities of oil have been stored in all sections of Southern California. The Frost Protection League of Tustin has just added to its storage capacity by the purchase of a 1000-barrel tank. This doubles its capacity of last year and should prove ample for any emergency.

OFFERS LAND TO ENGLAND AT HER OWN VALUATION

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Emulating the Duke of Sutherland and others, the Low Moor company, coal land owners and ironmasters of Bradford, has made an offer to Mr. Lloyd-George in order to disprove the statement made recently by the chancellor of the exchequer that urban lands were being willfully withheld or offered at unreasonable prices, and that this was forcing small farmers to emigrate from Great Britain.

The Low Moor company offers to sell to the government at the latter's own valuation 200 acres of land with in the city of Leeds and 200 acres in the city of Bradford.

Begin Early Enough

One reason why so many people never acquire a fortune is because they do not begin early enough to lay plans for one. They wait for something to "turn up" instead of going about it as if it were a matter requiring their industry and perseverance.

Become a consistent money saver at the Orange County Savings & Trust Company. There are thousands of fortunes beginning here now. Santa Ana business capital and Santa Ana investments of a few years hence are taking form in the modest accounts of people who are "beginning early."

A Potpourri of News and Views

From the Los Angeles Financial Review

Bryan and the Administration

At the Iowa State Dairy Show, held at Waterloo, Secretary of State Bryan delivered an address which was devoted to the administrative measures of President Wilson, in which in speaking of the currency bill, he said:

"The currency bill is the most remarkable currency measure that we ever have had. It gives the bankers enough to make them happy, and doesn't enable them to take enough to make the people miserable. There is one feature about this bill that should win the support of every banker doing a legitimate banking business. Heretofore it has been necessary to put up bonds to secure Government money, but by the provisions of the new bill, the Government loans money without requiring bonds. It lets the regional bank take collateral from the banks within the zone and the zone banks put their guarantee on the collateral. This enables the Government to put into a community more money than it takes out."

On the income tax law he said: "Because I favor a two per cent tax with an exemption of $4000 and no graduation, they called me a demagogue and a disturber of the peace, and accused me of trying to stir up the poor against the rich. That is what they did nineteen years ago, but this country is changed. When this bill passed the House it provided for an income tax running from one per cent to four, and when it got to the Senate the Senate said that it was not enough; for now we have a Democratic Senate, a Senate that comes from the people, and hereafter the Senate will be responsible to the will of the people."

"While Western Republicans voted for the protective rates of a higher tariff, an Eastern Democrat, Woodrow Wilson, right by Wall Street and the manufacturers, cast his lot with the plain people and gave them a low rate on the necessities of life. Why did he do it? Because his heart is on the people's side."

Later in an interview which he gave to the newspapers, the Secretary of State predicted that the new tariff law would lower the cost of living, bringing substantial benefits to consumers, "and remove for a generation the fear that has been excited before each election by the advocates of protection."

"I believe that the new tariff will lower the cost of living on some schedules more than on others. The extent of the reduction is difficult to calculate in advance, because a number of factors enter into the situation. The tendency of a fall in prices is to increase the demand, and an increase in the demand will to some extent check the fall. Then again, the fall in prices tends to increase the demand for better qualities in goods, which has to be taken into consideration."

"There has been a material reduction in the tariff on woolen goods, which means that part of the saving will go into better quality. Less shoddy and more wool will be used. In predicting the future of this country as the consequence of the tariff law, allowance must be made for the change in factors that conspire to produce the results. If prices are rising, a part of the reduction resulting from the tariff would be absorbed by the rise, but it must be remembered in such a case that but for the tariff reduction the price would be still greater."

"There can be no doubt of the passage of the currency bill in the Senate. The hearing will close next week and the bill be reported to the Senate the week after. The currency bill is growing in favor with the public as its provisions are understood. It is a remarkably significant step in the way of constructive legislation. It safeguards the interests of the whole people and at the same time gives so much real advantage to bankers in crises that they cannot afford to object to it unless they have more interest in controlling the country's business than in the accommodation of the public."

Echo of Bank Failure

A second suit has been instituted against the stockholders of the defunct Kern Valley Bank, this one by Superintendent of Banks W. R. Williams, to recover $325,000 under the provisions of the State Banking law, to pay the indebtedness of the institution. Action was begun in the Superior Court of Kern County. There is pending at the present time a similar suit, begun by Fred Gunther as trustee for the depositors for the bank. A demurrer to the bank's first suit was sustained. The defendants and respondents named in the action instituted today are: L. J. Carver, R. McDonald, H. A. Jastro, George W. Price, S. W. Jewett, I. H. Glenn, Sarah L. Conner, executrix of the last will and testament of C. L. Conner, deceased; Lucetta H. Stevens, special administratrix of the estate of J. A. Jewett, deceased; Mrs. T. C. Moncreur, Roper estate; R. E. White, P. L. Jewett, C. Cohn, Samuel L. James, Anna S. James, Mary E. James and Lucy C. James, and the Kern Valley Bank.

The following oil companies have filed articles of incorporation during the week:

Coalring Pipe Line Co., Los Angeles, Cal. Directors: W. Coleman, Minnie Dolansky, Vesta Dolansky. Capital stock, $20,000; subscribed, $3.

Maricopa Star Oil, Los Angeles, Cal. Directors: T. A. O'Donnell, M. H. Whittier, E. T. Yarnell. Capital stock, $100,000; subscribed, $3.

Courts After Middlemen

The right of middlemen to take steps to prevent wholesalers from selling direct to consumers came before the Supreme Court of the United States this week when the suit of the Government for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law against the retail lumber dealers of the Eastern states was up for argument. The retailers were enjoined in the New York Federal Court from circulating lists of wholesalers who sold direct to consumers.

Outlook for Celery Crop

Estimates of the celery crop from California this year give the number of cars at 2450 or 2,744,000 bunches. A carload contains 160 crates, 84 bunches to the crate, or 1120 bunches. The shipments from El Monte, it is estimated, will total 600 carloads, and from Santa Ana 750 cars, making a total from Southern California of 1350 cars. The Antioch district in the northern part of the state will ship about 1100 cars this year.

Great Liner is Welcomed

The new ocean liner Congress, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which cost $1,500,000, was given royal welcome on her arrival in Los Angeles harbor by thousands of people. On her maiden trip to this port she carried 559 passengers and 2600 tons of merchandise. Three thousands Angelenos visited the vessel while she was docked in the harbor, and were entertained at luncheon.

High Money Rates Continue

Commenting on financial conditions, The American National Bank of San Francisco, in its monthly financial letter, says:

"It is not to be understood, however, that the financial situation is anywise 'easy.' High rates are likely to continue for some time to come, and many would-be borrowers will have to get along without loans. Despite the somewhat weakened state of bank reserves, which must be remedied before any material improvement in the money market can be expected, there are no longer any misgivings as to the immediate future, and the situation contains many factors of a reassuring sort. Conspicuous among these is the favorable trade balance of the United States. For the eight months ending September 1 the excess of foreign exports over imports amounted to $358,000,000 as compared with an export excess for the same period last year amounting to $228,000,000. While this ratio of increase is not likely to be kept up, now that the new tariff law is in force, and imports, long retarded, are rapidly increasing in volume, the balance is sufficient to insure the ability of the United States to command gold from Europe if gold shipments should be needed."

"The proposed currency bill is now before the Senate, which is showing a disposition to weigh its provisions carefully, and it is more than likely that action will not be reached until after the regular session of Congress begins in December. Marked opposition to certain features of the bill was developed at the national convention of bankers, held in Boston early in the month. While the bill embodies many principles of banking and currency reform that the bankers have advocated for years, there is an almost unanimous feeling that it entails undue and unnecessary hardships upon the existing national banks, and its drastic provisions should be modified. Particular objection is made to the compulsory measure, which requires national banks to furnish all the capital and most of the deposits for the Federal reserve institutions—under pain of forfeiting their charters—while having almost no voice in their management."

"There is no more logic or justice in compelling the banks to furnish capital for a Government banking institution than there would be in compelling the newspapers to furnish capital for a Government newspaper organized to compete with other newspapers; or in compelling the railroads to furnish capital and traffic for a Government railroad. Suggestions to amend the act so as to eliminate these unwelcome provisions are heard by Congress with respectful tolerance but no change of attitude. Yet the bankers have not asked for control of the reserve banks, but only minority representation on the board; and that subscriptions to the reserve bank stock be permissive, not compulsory."

"Unless the business public assents to the new principle of Government set forth by the advocates of the bill, it is time business men should be heard in protest. If private capital in the form of bank shares can be commandeered for Governmental purposes, against the consent of the owner, why may not private capital in any other form be treated in like manner? It is doubted if the Socialistic tendencies of the times have progressed so far as to make this prospect attractive to the majority of citizens. No one doubts that the Administration is actuated by an earnest desire to benefit the commercial interests of the country by framing a measure that will improve and enlarge credit facilities. But would not success be better assured by making the plan attractive to bankers and thus securing their friendly co-operation, rather than by attempting to drive them, at the end of a club, into unwilling participation?"

State Embarks in Insurance

In Wisconsin on Monday a law enacted by the Legislature became operative, under the provisions of which the State insures the lives of its residents, payable from a State life insurance fund. The law was enacted after the idea had been worked out by Commissioner of Insurance Ekern and presented before a Legislative committee. A previous thorough study had been made by him of similar laws in operation in Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium. No policy is issued for a larger amount than $1000. When the number of policy holders reaches 1000, the maximum policies issued will be for $2000, and when the number reaches 2000, the maximum policy will be for $3000, which is the highest amount now authorized. The first policy and the first one under a State life insurance fund, was issued to former Speaker Charles A. Ingram Durand, who introduced the bill in the 1911 session to create State insurance. Other policies were issued to persons in various parts of Wisconsin, more than ten per cent of whom were women. Existing Governmental machinery will be used in the administration of the law without the creation of additional offices.

Data on Petroleum Industry

Data is now being gathered by State Mineralogist Hamilton which will be presented in book form on the petroleum industry in California, particularly data that will treat of the most serious problem confronting oil operators, the water problem. It will be the first book of the kind on this great industry in the State. Mr. Hamilton was in Los Angeles this week from a tour of the oil producing sections. Speaking of the work, he said:

"A great deal of money has been spent in efforts to solve the water problem, and it has become of such widespread importance that oil men all over the State are interested. The problem is one which demands very careful consideration, and although there are many phases to its solution, I think that probably the mutual cooperation of producers in handling the problem will prove the most effective in the end. As far as the damage done is concerned, although it is temporally irreparable, the oil will at some future time separate from the water owing to its lighter gravity and thus be recovered. This process will require many years, though."

Earnings on Per Man Basis

Figures printed in the Railway Age Gazette prepared by a contributor reduces the earnings of the railroads for the past decade to a per-man basis. Gross earnings of all of the railroads for each employee were $1452 in 1902, $1548 in 1907, and $1664 in 1912, while the net returns in 1902 were $613, in 1907 $503, and in 1912 $445. The gross earnings for each man employed last year were 14.5 per cent larger than in 1902, and 1.5 per cent more than in 1907, while the net earnings were 13 per cent less than in 1902 and 11.5 per cent less than in 1907.

Establishes Weather Record

The year has been the driest in Kansas' history and probably will be one of the wettest on record. The total rainfall since Jan. 1 is within two inches of the year's normal average. The average yearly rainfall is 30.12 inches. The total thus far is 28.46 inches.

Income Tax on Pension

The widow of President James A. Garfield, under the provisions of the income tax law, which compels payment on incomes in excess of $3000 per year, will have to pay one per cent, or $20, on her pension of $5000.

YUAN SHI KAI TO RESTORE TEA TRADE

China's Once Great Business Has Dwindled, But Will Now be Fostered

PEKING, Nov. 12.—Now that Yuan Shi Kai has been elected for a full five year term as president of the republic, he and his cabinet expect to build up the country, and one of the first problems to call their attention will be the steady decline of the nation's tea trade in recent years, according to an announcement made here today. The Department of Agriculture has begun an investigation along this line, and some startling facts in regard to the nation's tea business already have been disclosed.

In 1888, as far back as accurate government statistics go, the Empire of China was the greatest tea producing country in the world. In that year it exported 289,067,000 pounds of tea, but in 1907 figures had dropped to 200,220,000 pounds. The Chinese export at present is about what it was in 1907. In sharp contrast to this has been the strong and steady invasion of India and Ceylon into China's tea monopoly. In 1888, when China shipped from her shores nearly 300,000,000 pounds of tea, India's exports were only 90,000,000 pounds. In 1907, however, when China's exports had dwindled to 200,220,000 pounds, India's had risen to 216,611,000 pounds. In other words, in 19 years China's tea exports dropped 30 per cent, while India's rose over 100 per cent. In the same period Ceylon's exports of cooling expanded from 49,000,000 to 165,000,000. Java, as well, has taken advantage of China's failure to hold her own market.

In 1898 the tea exports of this Dutch colony were 14,500,000 pounds, whereas in 1907 they were 26,000,000 pounds. Formosa, Natal and French Indo-China are also coming up steadily as tea producers.

Antiquated methods of production have been important factors in the decline of the country's tea exportations. The rank and file of native tea growers today use the same methods that were thought all right thirty, forty and fifty years ago. Nevertheless, the principal cause of inaction of a once flourishing industry was ever the cruel indifference of the Manchurian bureaucrats. The lowly tea raiser, the humble tea merchant in a few isolated ports was nothing to them, and they cared little whether the entire tea trade died, and with it the growers, so long as officials, high and low, got their regular "squeeze" from taxes and other palm greasing perquisites. That time has passed. Today Peking has alert republican officials on the job. The next step is to study the modern tea raising methods employed in India, Ceylon and elsewhere, and this will be done as soon as funds are made available.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first navel oranges of the year arrived yesterday from the Porterville section, and sold at $5.50 per box. Naturally, they were fairly wrapped, stock in good color, and fairly well ripe. The crop not as heavy as last year, according to forecast, but allowing the growers a fine profit on their production. For Thanksgiving the first navel oranges from Arizona are expected. Last year they were weeks ahead of any California crop, and supplied the November demand for oranges. A car will be coming from Yuma within the next four or five days. There are still some Valencia on the market. They are selling at $5 to $5.50 per box on the best obtainable fruit. Lemons continue very firm, and on shipping stock, packed, are bringing from $7 to $7.50.

There was no change in the egg market locally. The dealers here have reached the limit of their carrying at 47 cents on graded ranch candied stock. In San Francisco the market on ranch eggs yesterday was quoted at 53 1/2 cents. In New York prices have been advanced rapidly, and went to 46 yesterday. Chicago is paying less than any other large egg center in the country.

to attend as important matters will be considered.

"By order of Executive Committee." The above notice has been sent out by S. J. Jackman and Prince L. Topie, chairman and secretary of the Republican County Central Committee, to members of the central committee.

The meeting will be a get-together meeting, and a good deal more. The committee will talk over plans for the coming year. One thing to be decided is whether or not to put a full county ticket into the field. Some of the members of the committee have expressed an opinion in favor of doing so, while others say let those run who desire and everybody vote for the best man up, regardless of his politics.

Arrangements will probably be made for a mass meeting of the Progressives of Orange county.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

CONTRACT LET FOR $37,652

Committee Appointed to Endeavor to Settle Quiet Title Case

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Supervisors let a contract to Withers & Crites for constructing three sections of county good roads between Anaheim and Glendale. The price is $37,652.44. Withers & Crites being the lowest of three bids considered by the board. Withers & Crites are building the road between Orange and Olive.

District Attorney West stated that he believed a settlement could be secured in the action brought by L. S. Brooks of Laguna Beach against the County of Orange, and West, County Surveyor McBride, Supervisor Jasper Leck and M. M. Crookshank, of the highway commission, were appointed a committee to act for the county in arranging a settlement, if possible. The action concerns land at Laguna Beach. The county claims that the road runs to the tide water. Brooks says he owns the land.

Contract for Rock
On the recommendation of the highway commission, the board let a contract to the Phillips Company for 290 tons of rock screenings at seventy-five cents per ton, for use on good roads.

Want Their Share
E. E. Keesh and S. A. Amos of the Tri-County Reclamation Committee presented to the board the fact that San Bernardino and Orange counties have not received any share of the money that the federal government is alleged to have up for distribution from the earnings of the national forests. Efforts are to be made to get the money. The supervisors agreed to allow the money to be spent on the Mill Creek road in the San Bernardino forest, to help the water supply of the Santa Ana river.

The board adjourned to Nov. 13.

Mrs. John C. Davis of Anaheim was ordered committed to the asylum as an inebriate.

MISS MUNGER GETS REWARD

Her Information Led to Recovery of Motorcycle—To Receive $25

Two Boys Traded Speedometer for Gasoline, Arousing Suspicion

Miss Kate Munger, proprietor of the store at Myford, will receive $25 as a reward for the capture of a motorcycle stolen in Los Angeles from John Flittner.

Yesterday afternoon two boys, who say they are Ray Johnson and Earl Lake, stopped at the store and traded a speedometer for gasoline. Miss Munger suspected that the motorcycle was a stolen machine, and she telephoned to the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Jenkins of Myford was notified to take charge of the boys, and he held them until Deputy Sheriff Boynton and Glover arrived.

Johnson admitted that he stole the motorcycle. Today it developed that there was a reward of $25 for the return of the machine. Flittner deposited the money with Sheriff Rudbeck, who will send it to Miss Munger.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

MEXICAN'S CONDUCT FRIGHTENED WOMAN

Malintous Vasquez, Mexican, is in jail on a charge of disturbing the peace. Yesterday on a bicycle he followed Mrs. Elizabeth Bostell of Fairview, who was driving in a buggy. Mrs. Bostell first noticed the Mexican in Santa Ana. He rode up beside her, and whichever way she turned he turned. She tried to get away from him but failed.

He followed her as far as the race track, and there the woman drove into a yard and telephoned for Sheriff Rudbeck, who arrived in a few minutes. The Mexican was found in the road waiting for the woman to drive out again.

Gambling Trial
J. H. Aguayo is again on trial on a charge of gambling. He was arrested at Anaheim in a raid conducted by Under Sheriff Law. The first jury disagreed, one man holding out for acquittal.

Judgment Given
Justice Cox has rendered judgment in the more or less famous frog pond case from Huntington Beach. Ellis sued the Southern California Marine Gardens for $62.50 for a pump. The defendant replied with a demand for $175 for damage done by Ellis' horse while on a rampage. It being alleged that the horse smashed tile, jumped in a pond, disjuncted a windmill, broke nine and tore down fences. Cox gave $62.50 for the plaintiff and $25 for the defendant.

INCOME TAX PUZZLE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—If a husband and wife each have an income of $3000 yearly, are they exempt from taxation or are they to be taxed as if having an income of $3000? The treasury department doesn't know. Neither does it know whether a joint tax on husband and wife will be promoted between them, or whether it is due to pay it all.
